

Untangle Christmas:

Organizing Your Ornaments and Lights for Next Year

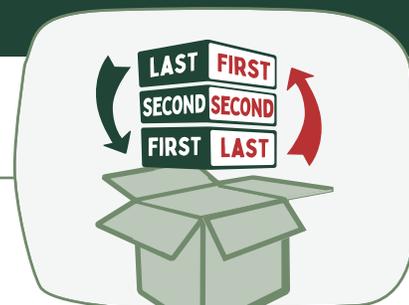

Separate Décor by Category

Separate holiday décor from tree décor. Use smaller boxes to make it easier to access specific items. Make sure to store everything in a cool, dry place.

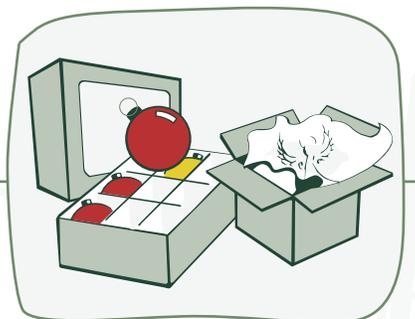

Prevent Tangled Lights

Neatly wrap your lights around a piece of cardboard, use Velcro straps, or buy a tree light reel to keep your lights untangled and your stress levels down.

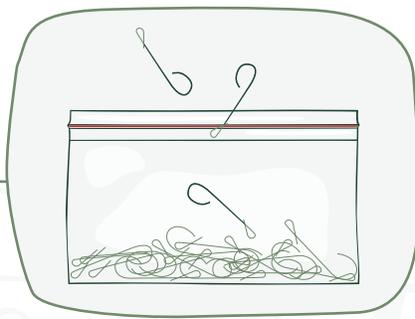

Pack for Unpacking

Think about the order you'll want to access your décor. Pack the ornaments or decorations you want first...last, so you can unpack them first.

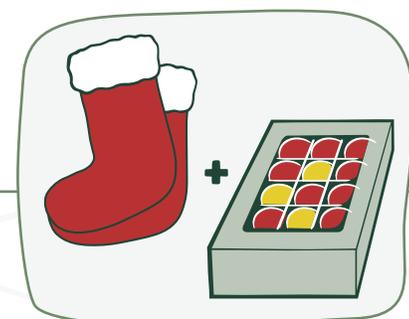

Keep Fragile Items Safe

Store ornaments, especially Christmas ball ornaments, in the boxes they came in. Wrap fragile items securely and store them in smaller boxes.

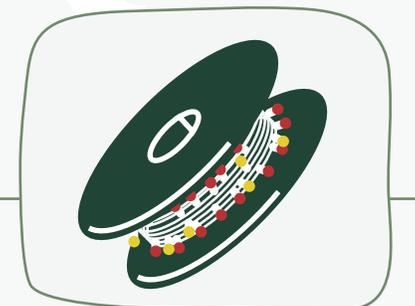

Bag the Hooks

Put your ornament hooks in a sealable plastic bag. This ensures they won't get lost in boxes and you won't need to buy new ones each year.

Store Stockings with Ornaments

Once you get the tree up, continue the excitement by hanging your Christmas stockings. If they are stored in the same area, they're easy to find!

Wrap Outdoor Lights

For outdoor lights, get a Christmas light reel for your extra light yardage. Reels are easy to use, and they keep the lights tangle-free!

Store Décor Safely

Take the batteries out of any electronic devices before storing to avoid corrosion.
